

Reiner Kühnau (Halle-Wittenberg, Germany)

An extremal decomposition of a rectangle

`kuehnau@mathematik.uni-halle.de`

For a given rectangular electric conductor we are looking for a cutting-up under some side conditions such that the enlargement of the resistance is minimal. There is a connection with conformal mapping theory.